“ I met Bob around 1975 at a gathering at my parents house. He found my guitar and amp in the basement and struck up a conversation with me. I immediately knew Bob is the kind of guy that I wanted to be my friend. He was the kindest and funniest person and always had a smile on his face. His last words to Karen and I was, " I love you guys". We love you too Bob. You will be missed.

“ I had worked with Bob at the Saint Louis Art Museum starting in 2005. He was a true pleasure to work around, and will be missed greatly. So sad to have him go so soon.

“ Deeply saddened. Bob was an absolute gem. A great friend and inspiration to myself and my family. Bob was the best guitar player I ever met. Period. I asked him to teach me to play "reeling in the years". he says: " you got six months, uninterrupted." He tried to give me guitar lessons but finally said : "Billy, I think we need to find you a different hobby."

I loved to listen to him play almost as much as I loved to listen to him give Dave grief. He was great at both.

We will surely miss him.

“ Bob always was a fun guy to hang out with. He had an awesome sense of humor. I can hear his laugh in my mind now. He loved music, animals and his gentle soul will me missed. Bob remained close to his friends and was loved by everyone I know. May God bless .

“ I am heartbroken over Bob's sudden passing. I just spoke to him an hour earlier. He told me he's doing great just strumming some tunes on his acoustic on the porch. We talked several times a day and he always wanted to know how my husband, Danny and me are doing. Never once hung up without saying he loved us. He had so many funny expressions. One of my favorite was, Let's have a Looky Lou. He was the sweetest and one of a kind. He was so loved and touched so many lives. He taught me how to accept what God has in his plans and gave me so much love after my son's passing. For that reason and so many more I'm eternally grateful to have him as my brother and friend.

“ Bob was my guitar brother for 42 years. We started playing when I was 14 and he was 15. Wonderful memories of playing together. Playing guitar will never be the same without Bob on my right side.
